ACQUITTED!

This was the verdict brought in by jury, which for a month has been listening to testimony in the famous Hall-Mills murder case in Somerville, N. J., court house. This one word which completely absolves Mrs. Frances S. Hall and her brothers, Willie and Henry Stevens, of all guilt in the slaying of Mrs. Eleanor Mills, four years ago, came as no surprise. Court spectators cheered the verdict and then crowded about the defendants to congratulate them. Above are Mrs. Hall and her brothers, Willie (left) and Henry. They are still under indictment for the murder of Dr. Hall, but it is doubtful if this charge will ever be pressed.
